

JAPAN WAITS THE SURRENDER

Is All Ready for the National Rejoicings Over the Fall of Port Arthur.

ENGLISH FLEET GOES TO SEA NOW

Will Protect the English Vessels En Route for Japan From the Russians---Conflict Is Feared.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) London, Aug. 26.—With the fall of Port Arthur only a few hours distant, Marquis Oyama has sent a final demand upon Gen. Stoessel for the unconditional and immediate surrender of the inner works. He intimates that capitulation alone will prevent a massacre of the garrison.

The Japanese soldiers have seen 35,000 of their comrades fall in charging the hills and defenses surrounding the stronghold, according to advices from Chofu, and in event of the final assault may take vengeance on the beleaguered Russians. Retaliation is one of the cardinal tenets of Shintoism, the religion of Japan.

Russians in Bad Plight
The action of the Russian battleship Sevastopol in leaving the comparative safety of the harbor and facing almost certain destruction from mine and torpedo in order to silence, if possible, the Japanese guns which have been placed on hills commanding a clear view of the city and harbor was a sacrifice of the most desperate kind.

News of the fall of Port Arthur is looked for every hour here. It is believed that both sides have suffered heavy losses and that the final record will make the siege the bloodiest since Sedan. The Japanese are supremely confident of the ultimate result.

Japs Prepare to Celebrate
The leaders of the government at Tokio await the outcome in calm assurance. The people are everywhere decorating streets and houses and erecting arches and flag-staffs in preparation for a national celebration of the expected victory.

Stop Russia's Bluff
Capetown, Aug. 26.—It is rumored that Rear Admiral Chadwick's squadron has been ordered to put to sea in order to prevent Russian interference with American vessels which are bringing foodstuffs to the far east via the cape route. Rear Admiral Chadwick has been hastily summoned from Johannesburg.

No Instructions
Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—It can not be definitely ascertained that any instructions have been given Rear Admiral Chadwick to prevent the seizure of American vessels by Russian cruisers off the African coast. Officials generally discredit the statement that orders of this character have been given. They pronounce it "highly improbable." They say Admiral Chadwick, with the South Atlantic

NO CONTRIBUTION FOR CAMPAIGNS

Civil Service Commission Warn All Office Holders Against Giving Money.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Washington, Aug. 26.—At the direction of the president the civil service commission today issued orders warning all federal employees against soliciting funds for campaign purposes or contributing to such funds through officials of the government. The circular is entitled "Warning against political assessment and partisan activity of office-holders." The commission will prosecute all offenders.

R. M. Jacks, assistant superintendent of the Wisconsin Central railroad company, has just returned from the Isle of Wight, where he invested in land for himself and some of his railroad friends.

CONFERENCE TO END GREAT CHICAGO STRIKE

Is on Between Strikers and Council Committee. Also Between the Packers and Council.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Chicago, Aug. 26.—The conference of the committee of packers and the labor leaders was held in the mayor's office at noon to discuss the strike conditions, and if possible to find some common ground for settlement of the strike. Representatives of the packers will meet with the labor committee later today. The labor leaders met this morning and prepared their side of the case for presentation to the packers. They stated the labor leaders desire peace and are working hard to bring it about. Organizer Fitzpatrick said this morning that if an other conference could be arranged between the packers and strikers it was certain the strike would be settled in five minutes.

Federal Side
The federal government was represented in both of the conferences by Ethelbert Stewart of the department of commerce and labor. President Donnelly wired all the international members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters, Butchers and Workmen's union to come to Chicago at once. The executive board will meet Monday or Tuesday to discuss and advise the leaders as how to conduct the strike.

To Injure Trade
London, Aug. 26.—The Russian correspondent of the Times attributes the attitude of St. Petersburg toward British far east shipping interests to her utmost to injure Japanese foreign trade. It is well-known in Russia that Great Britain takes an enormous percentage of Japan's import and export business, and it is reasonable that a severe economic blow can be dealt Japan by intimidating British shippers into abandoning their Japanese trade.

Have Thousand
Chefoo, Aug. 26.—Russian advices received here say that the Japanese assaults on Port Arthur August 21 and 22 were repulsed with tremendous losses. It is added that the attempt of the Japanese to capture fort No. 1 cost them 10,000 men, and that their attack on Fort Eishan resulted in their losing 3,000 men killed or wounded. Port Dabny is said to be filled with wounded men. It is now reported that General Stoessel is negotiating for the surrender, under honorable terms, of Port Arthur, having become convinced of the uselessness of further resistance. It is thought that he will insist that his men shall march out with colors flying and be permitted to join the main army under Kuropatkin.

Stoessel Sends Report
St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—The emperor has received a dispatch from Viceroy Alexieff, dated August 24, saying that General Stoessel reports from Port Arthur August 19 that at 1:30 in the morning of that day the Japanese began an assault on Ulovol Hill and opened a fierce bombardment on the fortifications north and east fronts with their batteries on Wolf Hills. The Japanese, he adds, are digging trenches in front of Suishin and along the entire Lunke (Tiger) valley.

Japanese Have 240,000
Liaoyang, Aug. 26.—At the Russian headquarters here General Kurlov's army is estimated at 100,000 men, General Nodzu's force at 70,000 and General Oku's at 40,000. This is exclusive of two divisions of about 30,000 men moving up on the right bank of the Liao river. Field Marshal Oyama, the Japanese commander-in-chief, is understood to be with the besiegers at Port Arthur.

OIL TANK BLOWS UP—MILLIONS IN

Francs Lost—Seven Workmen Perish in Antwerp Fire This Morning.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Antwerp, Aug. 26.—An explosion of a tank of oil belonging to the American Petroleum Co., carried fire to the Standard Oil Co. at Hoboken, three miles from here. All efforts to check the flames are in vain. The damage already amounts to a million francs. It will likely be days before the fire is stamped out. Seven workmen perished in the flames and several others were injured. Thirty-eight tanks of oil were destroyed; Antwerp is darkened by the smoke.

The Sunday school convention at Oxford this week was well attended. The meetings were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Brown, state synodical missionary.

NEWS OF THE STATE IN BRIEF.

A weekly paper will be started in Kenosha next month. A. G. Sharp will be the proprietor and editor. John Klein, 11 years old, was instantly killed by the runaway of a farm team in the town of Lamartine Thursday forenoon.

A barn on the farm of A. J. Killeen, near Fox Lake, caught fire from sparks from a passing locomotive and was destroyed Thursday morning.

Labor is scarce at Washburn this summer and the sawmilling companies that have been trying to run night shifts are having but poor success. Herbert Lombard of Racine and Miss Clauson of Pine Lake were nearly drowned in foot river Thursday night. A storm came up and overturned the boat.

The Chilian chamber of deputies has passed several measures intended for the Chilianizing of the Tacna and Arica provinces, according to the Antcon treaty.

CROOK WITH THE GLASS EYE TAKEN

TO BOSTON FOR TRIAL FOR ROB-BING MAYOR.

HAS COST THE HUB $20,000

To Capture J. W. Downey, Who Was Arrested and Jailed Here
Circus Day.

J. W. Downey, alias John Williams, the crook with the glass eye who was nabbed by Detective Louis Leith in the act of picking the pocket of a passenger on a train from Madison arriving here circus day and who subsequently spent some time in the local lock-up, has been taken to Boston to answer to the charge of attempting to rob former Mayor Thomas N. Hunt of the bean city. He was indicted in Boston for the crime but furnished "straw" bail and escaped. Because no witness save the detective could be found to testify against him here, it was necessary to release Downey.

Nabbed in Oshkosh
He followed the circus to Oshkosh where he was caught in the act of picking the pocket of a building contractor named August Domke. The latter positively identified the man on the preliminary examination but wavered to such an extent on the trial that the jury disagreed. Chief of Police H. F. Dowling happened to be aware of the fact that a man answering to Downey's description was wanted in Boston. As a matter of fact two photographs of the man appeared in The Detective, published in Chicago, while he was incarcerated here but it was apparent that he was wanted in neither of the cities of Grand Rapids, Mich., or New York, from which the pictures and descriptions were sent.

Boston Sends for Him
Detective Sergt. W. H. Pelton of the Boston police force was promptly sent to secure the prisoner. The necessary requisition papers have now been secured and the man is now on his way to the east. Had his attorneys at Oshkosh been successful in having his bail fixed at $500 instead of $1,500 it is probable that he would have been enabled to furnish the money through a woman confederate who appeared on the scene and claimed to be his wife. Sergt. Pelton of the Boston force says that it has cost just $20,000 to catch Downey—more money perhaps than he has collected in his forty or more years as a thief. The crime in Boston was committed two years ago and at one time or another nearly every member of the police force of that city has been at work on the case. Mayor Hart grabbed the man after he had stolen a quarter out of one of his pockets but Downey broke away. The capture of the pickpocket came near being an issue in the last municipal election and his present arrest and future conviction will mean a vindication of the Boston police force.

What He Cost Boston
The itemized expenses of trailing this man were figured out by the sergeant. Here are the figures:
Wages three detective sergeants, four months, $1,800
Wages two detective sergeants, two months more, 600
Wages one detective sergeant, eighteen months more, 2,700
Traveling expenses, first four months, 2,500
Traveling expenses, next two months, 3,500
Traveling expenses, last eighteen months, $800
Outside assistance, private agencies, 500
Total, $10,600

FEW ATTENDED THE CITY CAUCUSES

Democrats Did Not Evince Much Interest in Last Night's Political Gatherings.

Last night the few democrats who did not vote at the republican caucuses assembled at the different polling places throughout the city to close their delegates to the county conventions to be held in Janesville tomorrow afternoon. Few caucuses were ever held in attendance and little or no enthusiasm was evinced by the followers of "Parker and Grandpa Davis." In the third ward the delegation of the "great unwashed" was so slight that the four men chosen were elected for all the conventions—congressional, county and state. In the fifth ward the same order held but in the other wards enough men were present to pass around the honors. That there is a combine between the La Follette men and the democrats is now generally talked of and the convention tomorrow will be watched with interest to see if the deal goes through. It is almost certain that Dr. St. John will be chosen for assemblyman in this district and the chances point to the nomination of Clinton Habbitt of Delet for state senator. The first and third assembly districts have not yet chosen their standard bearers and may not decide until the last minute who will be the victims. The sentiment of many of the La Follette men outside of the leaders seems to be against a mugwump ticket or an open alliance of any kind but it is certain County Clerk Starr expects to have the democratic nomination offered him. The following were the delegates chosen last night:

First Ward
To county convention—J. P. Baker, C. C. MacLean, Cal Rose, Louis Knapp.

To congressional convention—Henry Blunk, Martin Dunn, Nicholas Diller, A. W. Baumann.

To senatorial convention—Harry Garbutt, James Sennett, Walter Johnson, W. L. Stoddard.

To assembly convention—C. B. Evans, J. P. Baker, E. O. Smith, Martin Dunn.

Second Ward
To county convention—J. F. Hatchinson, J. J. Cunningham, E. H. Connel, E. Clemens.

To congressional convention—Wm.

Smith, H. McElroy, John W. Richardson, Frank George.

To senatorial convention—Wm. Smith, E. P. Wilson, Frank George, John W. Richardson.

To assembly convention—H. McElroy, W. H. Dougherty, J. S. Doran, Frank George.

Third Ward
George M. McKoy, Ed. H. Ryan, O. A. Oestreich, Warren Skelly, elected to all conventions.

Fourth Ward
To county convention—F. C. Burpee, I. F. Connors, E. F. Hecmaling, T. Siegel.

To congressional convention—John Kennedy, Dan Sheridan, Thos. McKelvey, H. Kath.

To senatorial convention—Ed. Buggs, F. Burpee, Wm. Kuhlow, Ed. Murphy.

To assembly convention—Wm. Henning, Joe Connors, M. Dawson, Wm. Buggs.

Fifth Ward
J. B. McLean, George Croft, Geo. Tanberg, Ed. Rathern, elected to all conventions.

FISTIC LOVERS ON THE QUI VIVE

Wait Results of the Great Jeffries-Munroe Fight in San Francisco Tonight.

Eyes of the sporting world will be centered upon San Francisco tonight where James J. Jeffries, champion heavy weight of the world, will battle for his honors against Jack Munroe, a Butte, Montana, miner with a powerful swing and an iron jaw. The fight will be held in the Mechanics' pavilion in the city of the Golden Gate and the two biggest men physically in the ring today will fight for supremacy. One is a seasoned ringster with all the tricks of the trade; the other, while lacking but little in bulk and bone of his opponent is ignorant of the prize ring maneuvers. Both men are conditioned for a hard siege and Munroe claims he is not afraid of his ring-mate. He is satisfied Jeffries will not knock him out and like many an other game cock claims victory before the fight begins. Munroe has a record behind him. He has won twenty-one fights, the last of which was a knockout of Sullivan and Corbett before the Crescent club in New Orleans. Sullivan in the zenith of his glory went down in a disastrous defeat before a former bank clerk, Take the Mitchell-Corbett fight at Jacksonville. Mitchell, the old ring fighter, lasted but a few minutes before the skilled American. Take the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at Carson City, the fight that ended the hopes and aspirations of "Pompadour Jim." Take Sailor Sharkey's fight against Jeffries in New York and his wonderful staying qualities he has never shown before or since. Take Fitzsimmons' defeat by the present champion and then Judge Munroe's chances. Jeffries has a reach and a blow that few fighters of the old days ever had. It is questioned whether he can not punch Munroe out of the ring. However, if the bulky Butte miner can stand punishment without losing his head and watch his chance he may get in a blow that will send his opponent staggering and then win out. It is a test of endurance. If Munroe can keep from being knocked out he may win.

PAUL SCHULTZ GETS DECREE OF DIVORCE

Circuit Court Grants Him Separation from His Wife, Barbara Schultz.

Paul Schultz, a highly respected citizen in the employ of the North-Western road, was granted a decree of divorce from his wife, Barbara Schultz, in circuit court this week. Attorney Wilson Lane appeared for the plaintiff and Officer John Brown was one of the witnesses. The evidence was of an unpleasant character and tended to show that the defendant was much to blame. The decree was granted on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

BEST FAIR AND BEST OUTLOOK

For Largest Attendance, Is the Talk of Grant Fisher—Says Fair Will Be a Hummer.

"Wisconsin is to have the best state fair it has ever known," said Grant Fisher today. "The situation is this: in no department will we be inferior to any other fair of the year, while in a great many we will be much more advanced than we had anticipated. Horses are showing now at St. Louis and will be until the week our fair opens, and for that reason we will not get some of the horses we had expected, but we will get as many as we have had hitherto. In cattle, St. Louis follows us, and while that will keep some herds away it will, on the other hand, give us some herds we would not otherwise get, as they will be stopped off at Milwaukee on their way to the big exposition. In hogs, St. Louis will not affect us, as the animals will not be required there for some time.

Fine Dairy Exhibit Sure
"In feathered stock we are a rapidly growing state, and along the lines of dairy and machinery exhibits there will of course be an immense increase in growth. This state, as a dairy state, has made more than a national reputation, and the western dairy machinery makers will all be on hand with the best they produce, and, as already announced, power has been installed, and the machinery will all be shown in operation. The heavy machinery exhibit is also a growing department. In woman's work the fair is always crowded, and in the art department I can not say what will be done. It is to be under a different system this year, and as far as I can learn will be an art exhibit which will attract a great deal of attention, though as to the details I am not yet posted.

"With regard to the specialties, such as the horse racing, Dan Patch, the night and running horses, that information is pretty generally public. I am afraid that we will have to give up the colt races, as it looks as if those departments had not filled. I have not yet gone through the entries thoroughly, as they only closed last night. The class races have filled and will furnish excellent sport. With regard to the early closing events all the entries have shown their speed on other tracks, and the certainty, barring only the condition of the track, is faster and more keenly contested sport than we have yet had. With a Milwaukee horse stepping pretty close to 2:05, and $5,000 hung up in competition for it against outsiders, it seems that the people of this state should have something to shout for."

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 26, 1864.—Our Fire Department at Fond du Lac.—Our boys have returned from the Firemen's tournament at Fond du Lac and as they marched through the streets carried by their head the beautiful prize banner which they won in the contest for throwing the largest quantity of water in a specified length of time, they having beaten a Madison engine 2 3/4 inches. The banner is an elegant one, made of silk, and cost $100 in Chicago. The prize trumpet was contested for by the hose companies present, of which there was four. Hoss company number 3, of Fond du Lac, came in two second ahead of the company from this city, but it is alleged contrary to rules prescribed for the occasion, three of the fatigued firemen dropped off of the ropes and as many fresh ones took hold when a portion of the distance had been run. The prize trumpet is therefore in controversy, and the matter has been referred to the appropriate officers of the association for a decision. The boys did nobly, and have reason to be proud of their achievement.

Coming Attractions.

When John C. Fisher, who was the first producer of musical comedy on an extensive scale to spend fortunes in putting his chorus and "show girls" in expensive evening gowns, came to audit the bills for the costuming "San Toy," which he will offer in this city in the near future, he decided that he could not make himself believe that the expense had piled up so high until convinced by young man who keeps in touch with this department in Mr. Fisher's office. It had been his belief that the

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman.

Ottawa, Can., moulderers have gone on a strike. The moulderers are fighting for an advance in wages. The present minimum wage is $2.25 a day, but the moulderers want this advanced to $2.40.

Milwaukee, Wis., master bakers have signed contracts with the Bakery and Confectionary Workers' Union providing for 60 instead of 62 hours' work a week.

A state association of plumbers, gas fitters, steam fitters and sprinkler fitters and steam fitters' helpers has been organized at a convention held in Springfield, Ill.

During the year 1903, Toronto, Canada, had 24 strikes, involving 3,628 men, or almost one-quarter of the union labor men in the city.

Judge Haney, of the Cook county superior court, at Chicago, recently delivered one of the most stringent injunctions ever issued from that court. The decision was given in behalf of 20 firms in Chicago, members of the Metal Trades' association, restraining the members of the District Lodge, No. 8, International Association of Machinists, from picketing the plants of the complainant firms. The injunction goes further. It forbids the strikers and their sympathizers from even talking to the workmen of the complainants without the consent of those employers.

STATE'S BEST ANNUAL FAIR.

Wisconsin Fair in September Comprises Unique and Thrilling Features.

Every effort possible by the Wisconsin Board of Agriculture and by a Milwaukee advisory committee has been made this year to make the state fair at Milwaukee, September 23, attain to a higher standard than has ever been the case, and success, unless the weather says otherwise, appears to have been attained. Popular features were decided upon and each day, including the nights when the grounds will be lighted by electricity, there will be a long list of special attractions. Five separate groups of specialty artists, from "Daredevil" Tilden, who does a bicycle high dive into a tank containing four feet of water, to aerial artists and balloon acrobats, will give two performances each daily, afternoon and evening, there will be afternoon and evening horse racing, afternoon and evening band concerts, including the famous Philippine Constabulary band, exhibitions by Dan Patch, the world's champion pacer, automobile, bicycle and motor-cycle races, sham battle, a carnival day, addresses by Governor La Follette, David S. Rose, and other prominent state citizens, running races, a well diversified "colosseum" and many other features, in addition to an excellent general exposition.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 22d, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected said John O. Spooner, J. V. Quarles, J. W. Babcock and Emil Baensch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

LOWER EXPORT PRICES.

Our democratic friends appear to be worried over the fact that our manufacturers sometimes meet foreign competitors on their own ground by cutting prices. There is no denying that this is some times done, and there is no apology to offer for doing it. Sometimes it is for one reason, sometimes for another. Here are a few given to the Industrial Commission:

"Cash payments and large purchases in the foreign trade, whereas the domestic trade is based on credits and small purchases.

"The drawback or rebate of the tariff on imported raw material of goods manufactured for export.

"To overcome the tariff of other countries.

"To secure new markets.

"To hold a market against new competitors.

"To clear our surplus stock or to prevent a shutdown and increased cost of production, and keep mills running and men employed.

"To get ride of samples and out of date goods.

"Because the expense of selling and advertising is less abroad than at home."

Absolutely no one is injured, and many are benefited. First, the workman is benefited, because he has more employment. If we export $500,000,000 worth of manufactured goods, no matter what the selling price, the laborer gets about $150,000,000 of it. He gets it in the direct manufacture, in the transportation, in the making of tools and machinery, the clerical work—in every process, coming and going, first, last and all the time. The farmer benefits, because he sells more of his products right at home at profitable prices. The manufacturer benefits, because he disposes of his surplus stock and gains or retains a new foreign market. The tariff has nothing to do with it, except that both democratic and republican tariff laws have provided for a rebate of 99 per cent. of the duty on materials imported which enter into manufactures for export.

Just why the democrats and free-traders object to our manufacturers building up a foreign trade it is hard to guess, unless they object to American workmen being constantly employed and well paid. They will hardly win votes for their candidate on this issue.

NEW YORK OUTLOOK.

An alarm has been sounded by the New York World on the democratic outlook in the state of New York. In substance it is that while the republicans are thoroughly organized, the democrats have done nothing. This is true, but it is only part of the truth. The democrats are not only not organized but in the city of New York where the votes must come from to give them a majority, if they are to have one, the democratic leaders are fighting each other rather than the republicans. The row between McCarron and Murphy is growing fiercer daily, with no prospect of a settlement. The Parker managers begin to see that "ave" Hill let them into a bad hole when he formed an alliance with McCarron against Murphy. He did this in order to secure a Parker delegation to the national convention. In order to get McCarron's support he had to promise him the chairmanship of the executive committee on the democratic state committee.

Advices from the state at large agree in saying that the republicans are united and confident. Charles M. Pepper, the well known travelling newspaper correspondent, who is an observer merely and not a partisan, has just finished a tour of the state. He found few so-called gold democrats for Parker who had not returned to the party four years ago. He reports less enthusiasm for Parker than he found for Bryan in the campaign of 1896, and thinks that the present outlook is in favor of the state going republican. This accounts for the democratic alarm and for the offer of large sums of money in Wall street even on Roosevelt carrying the state with no takers.

BELMONT AND THE CANDIDATE.

August Belmont, who is running the trust branch of the democratic campaign, has a room at the national democratic headquarters, and it is announced that he will occupy it daily during the campaign, neglecting his business interests at great sacrifice in his zeal for Parker's election.

"Augie," as he is known in New York, "spoke a piece" at a recent democratic rally at Hempstead, Long Island, and created a genuine sensation in New York City by declaring that during the past eight years the country had been "drifting away from the constitution." That was the first intimation anybody had that in "Augie's" opinion the constitutional protected trusts and such peculiar financial operations as he had been connected with in the past in his efforts to develop the railway interests of the country.

When suspicious democrats from the West, who have suffered in their pockets, because of some of Belmont's proceedings, drop into headquarters and ask what he is doing there, they will be told by Chairman Taggart that "he is pulling the country back to the constitution," and this intimation will doubtless give them great comfort. "It is to laugh."

THAT WEST VIRGINIA NEGRO PLANK.

Ex-Senator and Vice-Presidential candidate Davis has taken the cue from Espino and substituted expediency for conviction and courage. At the recent West Virginia democratic state convention, the following amendment to the resolutions was offered:

We believe that the destinies of West Virginia should and must be shaped and controlled by the white people of the state, and while we disclaim any purpose to do any injustice whatever to the negro population, yet we announce without reserve our fixed purpose to preserve in every conservative and constitutional way the social and political supremacy of the white race, believing that by the frank avowal and consummation of such purpose alone can racial contention, which conflicts, be permanently avoided."

Nearly a whole day was consumed by the committee on credentials in discussing the plank, and while there was general sentiment in favor of it, yet the vice-presidential candidate opposed it. Here is what the Democratic Wheeling Register said of the matter:

"The entire southern end of the state is solid for a declaration of the platform in favor of white supremacy and the disfranchisement of the negro. Their representatives are demanding it, and Senator Henry G. Davis is opposing it lest the adoption of such a platform by his state should lose votes for the national ticket in the northern states. Senator Davis is as much in favor of negro disfranchisement as any one in the state, but fears a declaration in the party platform would be bad policy."

And so the plank was left out just as the gold plank was left out of the national platform.

The Fairmount West Virginian sums up the whole question tersely as follows: "The above indicates that Henry G. Davis is an eminently fit man to be Judge Parker's running mate. Parker played a double part in order to secure the nomination, and now Davis is acting the hypocrite for policy's sake. The democratic party never presented to the country a more pitiable spectacle in all its history than at present. It is sailing under false colors and richly deserves defeat. The average American despises a coward, and will not vote for a two-faced man, no matter if he be twice eighty-one years old. If

Mr. Davis favors disfranchisement of the negro, why does he hedge around the question for policy's sake? Come out in the open, old man, and show your colors."

The gold standard of currency can never be "irrevocably" fixed until the democratic party, in convention assembled, endorses the republican record and agrees not to attempt to tinker with it. That action has not been taken.

Judge Parker says that the laws are sufficient but the failure, to curb the trusts rests with "officials charged with the enforcement of the law." That reads like a slap at Grover Cleveland, when his record for enforcement of anti-trust laws is recalled.

If Judge Parker is elected president, he will, of course, retire at the end of one term to make room for Mr. Bryan who is already reorganizing his silver forces for the purpose of taking charge of the organization again in 1908.

Judge Parker admits that his election would mean a four years' conflict between a democratic president and a republican senate, with the prospect that no desirable legislation could be enacted. Do the people want such a change?

Republicans propose to use patience, generosity and the helping hand in aiding the Filipinos to equip themselves for self government. The democrats propose to allow them to return to the rule of the bolo.

The same party that is denouncing President Roosevelt as a "War Lord" today (denounce) Abraham Lincoln as a tyrant and an enemy of the republic forty years ago.

In commending the republican policies which his party has so strenuously opposed in former campaigns, Judge Parker tacitly admits he is glad the candidates for whom he has voted wet down to defeat.

President Roosevelt has not found it necessary to revise his party's platform. It was written for him in the record of republican achievements.

Democrats admit that the republican policies have proved beneficial to the country but they want their privilege of administering them.

Under President Roosevelt's administration the prestige of American diplomacy is recognized throughout the world.

Mr. Bryan also promised that if elected he would not be a candidate again. So far, the promise has been kept.

Western farmers report that there is nothing in the crop outlook to foster discontent or a desire for a "change."

"Twiclers." According to statistics which appeared recently in the British Weekly the number of "twiclers," that is of persons who attend church somewhere in London twice on Sunday, is 38 per cent of the whole number of worshippers. The number of worshippers in inner London is estimated at 832,051.

FOUR LIVES ARE LOST IN TERRIFIC TORNADO

Fierce Windstorm Sweeps Through Picnic Grounds, Uprooting Trees and Stamping the Horses.

Jamestown, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Four persons lost their lives and several others were injured in a tornado that swept through Chautauque county Thursday. Parkhurst's grove, where the Stocktown town picnic was being held, was directly in the path of the storm. Five thousand persons were on the grounds when a terrific windstorm swept through the place.

The dead: Mrs. Austin E. Pierce of Fredonia. Miss Ina Scott of Shumla. Orin Dalrymple, 60 years old. Unidentified child.

The most seriously injured: Mrs. Orin Dalrymple of Shumla; will probably die. Arthur Bliss of Portland.

The storm came up suddenly. Trees in the grove were struck by lightning, many of them blown down and the rain fell in torrents. The people who took refuge under the trees at the first sign of the storm were caught by the falling branches and injured. Many horses were killed in the same manner. Some of the animals stampeded, trampling upon the injured people lying upon the ground.

Some of the buildings in the vicinity were blown down and others were unroofed. Hundreds of forest and fruit trees were torn up and corn and oat fields were laid waste, entailing a loss of thousands of dollars.

At the assembly grounds at Chautauque many trees were uprooted and a portion of the fence around the grounds was demolished. The men's club house was badly damaged.

MALIGNANT CANCER CURE IS DISCOVERED

Electrodes of Zinc Coated With Quick-silver Are Dissolved in Tumor by Means of Electricity.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 26.—What appears to be a remarkable cure for malignant cancer has been brought about by Dr. Howard H. Swayne and Dr. G. Detton Mussey, two of the most prominent cancer specialists in this city. The patient, Mrs. Mary C. Downing, was laid upon a cot, especially prepared as an electric conductor, with clay surfaces next to the skin of the back.

Several six-inch electrodes of zinc, heavily coated with quicksilver, were thrust into the growth near its edges and a gentle current turned on. The current was gradually increased until 1,400 milliamperes was attained without shock. As soon as a moderate current was attained the zinc and mercury electrodes began to dissolve, and the chemicals, formed by the union of these metals with the oxygen and chlorine of the growth, were radiated throughout the tumor, killing the infected cells, softening the cancer and turning it a lead color to its outermost apparent limits.

Modern Foot is Smaller. It is asserted by a sculptor that the human foot is becoming smaller. The masculine foot of twenty centuries ago was about twelve inches long. The average man's foot of to-day is easily fitted with a No. 8½ shoe, which is not above ten inches and seven-eighths in length.

MUCH MYSTERY IN HIS DEMISE

FRIENDS OF DENNIS SULLIVAN ARE NOT SATISFIED.

WAS HE DOPED IN ASHLAND?

Story That the Unfortunate Young Man Was Given Some Medicine Before a Ball Game.

That there is some mystery connected with the death of Dennis Sullivan, who died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, is apparent from the inquiries that have come from Ashland and Milwaukee regarding the manner of his death. Young Sullivan was deaf and dumb and just previous to his death was the pitcher for the Ashland league baseball team. He came from that city to Janesville a week ago last Tuesday and is said to have told his mother on his arrival that he had been given something while there that made him sick and he had come home. He did not seem to be exceptionally ill and his death on Tuesday night came as a surprise to the friends of the family. It is known that inquiries have been made in Ashland regarding the theory that young Sullivan had been doped previous to a match game, and that some two weeks ago on which much money was bet. Members of his family are very reticent about giving any definite information, but hint in their conversation that they do not think everything was at it should have been. Deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, five brothers, Patrick, James, John, Timothy, and Thomas Sullivan, also two sisters, Mrs. John Kellisher, and Miss Ellen Sullivan, all of this city. The funeral service will be held from St. Patrick's church Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. J. McGinley will officiate. The interment will be at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

of the lower window and clinging to the water-pipe before alluded to. Their work was evidently done while they were in a sitting posture on the upper sill. There were at least two and possibly three in the rescuing party.

Other Prisoners Questioned
At least two hours was consumed in the labor but even the prisoners in the cage on the floor below seem not to have heard a sound. When questioned this morning they averred that they had at no time been awakened from their sleep. Whether the mysterious visitors took a boat down river or made at once for the railroad tracks and caught a train out of here is purely a matter of conjecture. Whatever the course and direction of their flight, no traces were to be found this morning.

COMBINE CHARGED AGAINST BABCOCK

La Follette Is Charged with Having Made a Deal with the Democrats in Third District.

It is freely charged in Madison and there are apparent reasons for the belief, that Governor La Follette has entered into an understanding or "deal" to defeat Congressman J. W. Babcock, chairman of the republican national congressional campaign committee, for reelection in the third district of Wisconsin. At the democratic nominating convention in Virgo yesterday, Herman Grotphorst of Baraboo, president of the state board of control and a democratic appointee of Governor La Follette, was nominated to run against Congressman Babcock. Mr. Grotphorst is well-known as a La Follette "fair minded" democrat and as being in sympathy with the political measures advocated by Governor La Follette and opposed by Congressman Babcock. In the republican congressional campaign in the third district last February, Governor La Follette waged a bitter "favorite son" campaign against Mr. Babcock, but there were small results of it in the nominating convention in Baraboo, March 3, Mr. Babcock receiving the nomination and a handsome endorsement. That fight was made by the governor on the announced basis of Mr. Babcock being a pro-railroad congressman and for the understood reason that the congressman opposed the measures being struggled for in this state by the executive. It is known that T. L. Cleary of Plattville, who was a leading candidate for the nomination secured by Mr. Grotphorst yesterday, had an arrangement with State Senator O. G. Munson of Virgo, a La Follette man, to swing the La Follette voters in the third district to the democratic nominee and it is believed that the same arrangement will be carried out in favor of Mr. Grotphorst. Little apprehension is felt for Mr. Babcock, however, as the district has a normal republican plurality of 12,000 votes and the great republican campaigner will doubtless be elected for his seventh term in congress.

PRESS COMMENT.

Chicago Tribune: If Napoleon's was reduced to the average height of Frenchmen two inches, what may be expected to be the average stature of the Japanese men of the next generation?

Sheboygan Journal: Sheboygan may lick all the baseball teams in Wisconsin, but it will be another thing to get them to own up to it.

Milwaukee Sentinel: John Sharp Williams says that democrats do not die in office. The country has frequently noted this regrettable fact.

Chesham Commercial Tribune: The prohibitionists insist that the Subway Tavern is nothing but the clasp of evil in the hands of the Potter.

Menasha Record: If La Follette has proof of one-tenth of what he says; if he has proof that money was openly used, bribes were paid to beat him in 1898, why don't he use it and fill up the jails? Why don't he?

Racine News: A theater crowded, a boat overloaded; a rotten bridge shaking; a coal mine exploding; a train in the river; a play-house in flames; the corner's verdict—"No body to blame."

Monroe Sentinel: It is understood that Speaker "Joe" Cannon, Senator Dooliver of Iowa; Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, and Congressman J. Adam Bede, of Minneapolis, are among those assigned to Wisconsin for the republican campaign.

Racine Journal: The signal service at Chicago says cyclones cannot form on the lake shore owing to the body of cool air above. But they do form as Racine can testify, can destroy life and property, as on the memorable May 18th, 1883.

Wisconsin Farmer: One subscriber to this paper informs us that he makes a practice of thoroughly washing his potatoes every year, after which they are stored in bushel boxes. The claim is made that by this method the highest market price is obtained on account of the fine, clean appearance of the tubers, and also on account of the splendid condition in which they keep when stored in this fashion.

El Paso Herald: The state department decides that the sacred Monroe doctrine has not been particularly violated by the British seizure of Bird Island in the West Indies, first because under the law of nations any power finding an unoccupied island may take it and hold it until the deposit is exhausted; second, because it is too little and insignificant to be worried about; and third, because the British did not do it.

Exchange: Representative Clarence D. Van Duzer says that a miner once told him of the red man's greed for whiskey.

"I was riding over the plains, once," he said, "with a pint bottle sticking out of my breast pocket, when an Indian met me, and seeing the whiskey, wanted to buy it. And do you know what he offered me? Well, sir, he offered me his buckskin breeches, his shirt, his saddle, his blanket and his pony—all for a pint of whiskey. What do you think of that?"

"And did you sell?" asked Van Duzer.

"No," said the miner, "I didn't. It was my last pint."

Madison Journal: The State Journal has heretofore remarked that La Follette is a clever politician and it is to be said again that, old as the purchase-delegate story is, it was clever, very clever, to bring it out at this juncture. Just now, with the treasury and insurance commissioner scandal smelling to heaven; with the record showing that it has cost nearly half a million more to administer the state government the past fiscal year than it did the preceding year; with the secretary of state refusing access to his books for fear of further scandals, and purged game wardens and factory and oil inspectors scurrying to cover, it isn't a bad trick to try to divert public attention from these to alleged wrong-doings on the part of his opponents.

DOMESTIC GIVES LIFE TO SAVE HER MISTRESS

Her Own Clothes Catch Fire From Those of Her Employer and Heroine Dies in Hospital.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—While bravely attempting to extinguish the flames enveloping the clothing of her employer, Mrs. C. McMonagle, Lillie Morgan was so severely burned that she died at the Englewood Union hospital.

The fire in Mrs. McMonagle's home was started by the accidental dropping of a match upon some bed clothing. Miss Morgan and Mrs. McMonagle were using a mixture containing gasoline to clean the wood work of the bedrooms when the accident occurred. Miss Morgan dropped the match, lighting the bedding, and, becoming frightened, let the can of liquid fall to the floor.

There was an explosion and a burst of flames about Mrs. McMonagle. Miss Morgan threw her arms around the woman, extinguishing the flames, but her clothing caught fire.

She ran through the hall to the back porch, where she fainted. Con Feely, owner of a saloon, saw the girl in her flaming garments fall upon the porch and hurried to her rescue.

Seizing a blanket he threw it about the girl and extinguished the fire. By this time James Barrett, employed by Feely, and Policeman Connors of the stock yards station reached the porch and assisted the injured girl.

Her clothing was burned almost off her body.

His son tried to stop him but was unable to do so. He passed through Janesville yesterday moving westward. Last evening William Graves came across the man standing in the middle of the road while driving west of town. Arriving in town he reported the matter and on returning with officers an hour later Hulbert was found standing in the self same place. The authorities at Mendota have been notified and will probably send for him as soon as the quarantine is lifted. In the meantime he is kept confined in the jail.

JAY MATTHEWS TAKES A JANESVILLE BRIDE

The marriage of Jay M. Matthews, formerly of Fond du Lac, and Miss Mildred Ford of Janesville was solemnized Tuesday evening at the home of the groom in Grand Rapids, Wis. Few particulars regarding the event have been received here except that the young couple were married and intend to reside in Grand Rapids.

The bride's home has always been in Janesville and she is well-known in this city having held honor on a number of occasions. Mr. Matthews is the son of George M. Matthews, who was employed at Hope's candy store up to a few months ago when he purchased the White Front Candy Kitchen in Grand Rapids. He is now associated with his father in the candy business and together with his bride will continue to reside at Grand Rapids.—Fond du Lac Reporter.

Mr. J. C. Wilmarth returned from a business trip to Chicago last evening.

Mrs. N. L. Carle is this evening entertaining in honor of Mrs. James Wilmarth of El Paso, Texas, who is visiting in the city.

HIGH RAILROAD MEN ARE CALLED

Illinois State Commerce Commission
Takes Hand in Inquiry Into Freight Franchises.

High officers of all the railroads entering Chicago were notified yesterday to appear before the Interstate Commerce commission in Chicago tomorrow to answer charges that the transportation companies are giving special privileges to private car monopolies. Chief of these private car concerns are the packing companies at the stockyards.

The principal charge is that the Armour company, which controls a private refrigerator car line on the side, started to drive all little private lines out of the Michigan fruit carrying trade. The Armour people succeeded in carrying their point. Once the Armour people had cornered the fruit business, they began a systematic advance in rates. This was accomplished, principally, by increasing the charges of being cars.

The fruit growers of Michigan preferred charges against the Armour company and the commission will investigate tomorrow.

Other Interests Involved

In addition to the charges of exorbitant rates on fruit, the commission will inquire into the relations between other private car companies and the railroads. It is said the investigation will reveal a startling condition existing between the two interests. Throughout the country the larger manufacturing plants, which include the big trusts, have been shipping their products in their own cars. For the use of these cars the railroads are presumed to pay 3/4 of a cent a mile. As a matter of fact, it is said, some of the transportation lines have been paying as high as 5 cents a mile, which means a rebate in charges in violation of interstate commerce laws.

Cut Rates in Chicago

The question of cut rates through the avenue of allowances for services performed by industrial railroads in and about Chicago will also come up for consideration on the part of the national officers. In and around Chicago there are between 150 and 200 switch tracks connecting railroads with manufacturing plants and warehouses. These switch tracks are termed "industrial" railroads, and liberal allowances for services performed by them have been made by connecting railroads. In this way the owners of the industries have secured rate concessions from the railroads, whereas owners of smaller plants and warehouses not owning switch tracks have been held up for tariff charges.

Barn, Hay and Straw Were Entirely
Consumed by Fire Yesterday Afternoon.

Mr. Frank Britt in speaking of his loss stated today that it would be fully $350. He did not think the barn could be rebuilt for any less sum, as lumber was high and his barn was in a first-class condition before the fire. The property was partially insured by Charles Cleland for $200. The damage done to the adjoining residences will probably be in the neighborhood of $100.

"About five years ago I noticed a slight eruption on my limbs, but in a very short time it was a sight to behold, from my head to my feet, and my nights were terrible. I was simply on fire. I tried a number of doctors here in this city, but with absolutely no results aside from easing the burning pain a little. A friend of mine who had been cured of a very bad case of Eczema by the D. D. D. Remedy advised me to try it, which I did, feeling good results from the first. I have been using the D. D. D. Remedy for about three months, using in all, about fifteen bottles, and today I am a well man. I also had dandruff in its worst form, and found the D. D. D. Remedy to be a wonder in curing this disease."

A ROMANCE OF THE DAYS WHEN "THE GREAT LORD HAWKE" WAS KING OF THE SEA

CHAPTER III.

ENEMIES ARE FRIENDS.

THE change from the broken and shattered brig to the spacious and magnificent ship of the line was startling. The latter was a brand-new ship fresh from the ways. Every improvement which the most skilled naval architects and ship-builders of the day could devise—and France easily led all nations in the fine art of naval construction at that time—had been lavished upon Le Thesee. The practical ability of the designers, exhibited in many novel and useful contrivances, had been re-enforced and not obscured by a lavish display of polished metal work, ornamental fittings and wood-carving, which would have better suited a royal yacht than a vessel of war.

As Grafton came through the gangway he was met by an officer and conducted aft to the high poop deck, upon which a brilliant group of officers were collected about a tall, splendid-looking man in the prime of life, who was evidently the commander of the ship. Grafton stepped toward him, bowed gracefully, and then, extending his sword, remarked in excellent French, of which he was luckily a thorough master:

"The fortune of war, monsieur, has made my small vessel the prize of your magnificent ship."

"You are a bold man, young sir, and in many instances—perhaps most—your gallant attempt to escape by running off before the wind would have been successful," returned the French captain, magnanimously. Then, touching the hilt of the young American's sword, he added graciously, bowing in his turn: "Retain your sword, monsieur, I should be loath indeed to deprive so brave a man of the weapon which he has shown he knows how to wear so worthily. Sang dion!"

He added, relapsing into the patois of his native province, "twas an impudent thing, sir, to slap us in the face like that when we first caught sight of you, and then try to run for it! But there are few feels laid down that Le Thesee cannot overhaul, I think. Hey, messieurs?" he questioned, turning to his officers, his remark being received with acclamations of assent. "Young sir," he continued, addressing Grafton once more, "will you give me the name of your brig?"

"H. B. M. brig Boxer—at least so was his this morning. She is yours now, monsieur."

"Where from and whither bound, monsieur?"

"From Gibraltar to Portsmouth."

"On what errand?"

"With dispatches, sir."

"Where are they?"

"Overboard and sunk, sir."

"Ha! And what of the fleet of Monsieur Boxer?"

"I can tell you nothing of that, sir."

"Nor as to the contents of the dispatches?"

"Certainly not, sir!"

"Humph! Your name, young sir, and rank?"

"Philip Grafton, monsieur, a lieutenant in H. B. M. navy, lately First of the Torbay, ship of the line, and more recently commanding the Boxer."

"Grafton!" exclaimed the other, surprised, "are you an Englishman?"

"No, monsieur," answered the young officer promptly and proudly, "I am an American. I was born in Massachusetts."

"And you are the son of—?"

"Admiral John Grafton, monsieur, who commanded the colonial armed ship Shirley."

"At the siege of Louisbourg in 1745?"

"The same, sir."

"Did your father ever tell you of the engagement he and one or two other private armed ships had with a French frigate seeking to enter the harbor?"

"La Renommee?" interrupted Grafton in great surprise at the other's knowledge. "Certainly, monsieur, often. 'Twas that fight, indeed, that won his approval and gained him the commission which was in turn passed on to me."

"My faith, sir!" exclaimed the French captain, smiling, "twas a hot fight indeed! I never have seen a better. He well deserved the commission he won. No wonder that you did not quarrel before a ship of the line, young man! You have in you the mettle of your father."

"Did you know my father, sir?" asked Grafton, in great surprise.

"I have heard him speak from the iron throats of his guns, sir."

"Then you are—?"

"I was the captain of La Renommee."

"And your name is—?"

"Guy de Kerquelen, Capitaine de Vaisseau of His Most Christian Majesty Louis XV., whom God protect, and very much at your service, monsieur. Here is no case of prisoner and enemy, gentlemen. The father fought me, I befriend the son. Is it not just, messieurs?" asked Kerquelen, turning to his officers once more.

It was Grafton who answered: "Is more than justice, Monsieur le Comte. His kindness, indeed!"

"N'importe, monsieur; I would that I could give you back your ship, but that, of course, is impossible. Nevertheless, your captivity shall be made as light as possible. We are bound in for Brest, and this gentleman here," indicating an old man in rich civilian dress, who had surveyed the scene with interest, "is my most noble kinsman, the Marquis de Chabot-Rohan. He will, I am sure, as my prospective sailing thence in a few days debar me from keeping you with me or extending you the hospitality of my poor house, take you into his own chateau until you are exchanged. 'Twill be a pleasant prison, sir, and there grows a wild Breton rose within the walls. Is it not so, Monsieur le Comte?"

"As to the rose, I cannot say. Monsieur Grafton may find it thorny; but as to receiving him, certainly, de Kerquelen," responded the old man just addressed by the captain. "I have a soft spot in my heart for Americans, as you know, since my only son honored himself by marrying a daughter of Virginia—a land of brave men, messieurs, and fair women. Helas!"

"Monsieur le Marquis," quickly answered Grafton, who had not spent some years of his life at court for nothing, "I thank you for your hospitality and I congratulate you upon the source from which it flows. I accept it gladly—roses and thorns as well."

"Monsieur, you honor me by your acceptance. As to the rose, Monsieur de Kerquelen speaks with the romantic license of Brittany. 'Tis but a child, monsieur, my little grand-daughter. I am the thorns—a dull old set, surely," added the old man, smiling rather grimly.

"Faith, de Chabot, he who would fain pluck your rose will find you sharp enough, I'll warrant. Morbleu, you haven't forgot that parry and return you taught me when I was a boy and you a young soldier. Ah, messieurs, if any of you seek speedily death you may easily find it before the marquis' point—"

"Gentlemen," smiled the old man, "here is no thought of death, but the tale of a little girl. Monsieur Grafton—"

"There are roses in England and America, Monsieur le Marquis—ay, and thorns, too. And no true man was ever deterred from wearing one for fear of the other. But, mistake me not, I'll not seek to pluck your Breton flower," replied the American, entering into the spirit of the jest. "I shall be your prisoner and—"

"Say my guest, monsieur. But enough," said the old marquis, frowning slightly. "As to the rose, we have carried the pleasant too far already, messieurs. Let us have no more of it. Monsieur Grafton, direct your private baggage to be brought to the ship here; we will leave for my chateau on our arrival this evening."

"Monsieur de Kerquelen," said Grafton, "will you add to the obligations under which you have laid me, by giving orders that my poor men, the wounded, I mean, are to be well cared for, and then have my private baggage sent off to Le Thesee? My steward, who is aboard the Boxer, will attend to it."

"Your men shall be attended to as if they belonged to me," responded the French captain, graciously, "and your private belongings secured. Meanwhile, will you step into my cabin that we may discuss further our common interests and friendships? Monsieur St. Laurent," he added, turning to his executive officer, who held the rank of captain de frigate, "will you throw a prize crew on the doughty little Boxer—a hard hitter, indeed—and bid her follow us into Brest under a jury-rig when she can. On second thought, monsieur, lie by her for a few hours until she is fit to go ahead. We would better convey her in. I should not like to lose her for all she is but a small prize."

A Vile Disease

Contagious Blood Poison has wrecked more lives and caused more misery and suffering than all other diseases combined. Some are inclined to treat it lightly, but these soon learn that they have to deal with a powerful poison that is slowly but surely breaking down the constitution. Contagious Blood Poison not only mutes out punishment to the one who contracts it, but others may become innocent victims of this vile disease through inheritance. If your blood is tainted you may live to see your children battling with the same disease—puny and sickly, made miserable by disgusting sores and skin eruptions. Under the mercury and potash treatment all signs of infection may disappear, but leave off these minerals and you soon find out the poison is still alive and you are just as bad off as ever. S. S. S. is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys the virus completely without injuring the system. It is a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1.00 for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. S. S. S. not only works the poison out of the blood thoroughly, but restores vigor and strength to all parts of the system.

SSS

Write for our special book on Contagious Blood Poison, describing the different stages and symptoms and containing much other interesting information about this most despicable of all diseases.
